Kelly is Gilty on Four Counts

Sentence Not Passed Until Reserve Case Has Been Discussed by the Counsel

WINNIPEG, June 30.—Thomas Kelly was convicted in the "Judge Court" last afternoon of each of the receiving of stolen goods, the use of other property, and of obtaining money by false pretences, sentence was not passed.

At four o'clock, when the jury had not yet returned, Mr. Justice Prud'homme was called into the court by the receiving of stolen goods, the use of other property, and of obtaining money by false pretences, sentence was not passed.

"We find the prisoner guilty on counts one, two, four, and five," said the foreman. The verdict was recorded.

"I ask that the jury be polled," said Kelly. There was no emotion in his voice. The jury was polled, and each man voted guilty.

"I do not move for sentence," said J. B. Coyne, K.C., speaking for the Crown. He cited that H. H. Dewar, K.C., and R. T. Harding would like to discuss "the terms of the reserved case, which Mr. Dewar asked for after his motion to quash the indictment was refused." It was arranged that the judge would hear this application to-morrow afternoon.

Mr. Dewar and Mr. Harding, who were associated with Kelly's defence until Mr. Justice Prud'homme ruled that the case must proceed on June 18, arrived in town this afternoon. They will ask the judge for a stated case to the Court of Appeal, and if this is granted pending its disposal it is not expected that Kelly will be released. The judge has indicated that he will grant the reserved case on request.

There were five counts in the indictment on which Kelly was tried. Number one was theft; number two and three were receiving; number four was false pretences, and number five was receiving. His lordship instructed the jury that they could not find Kelly guilty on counts two and three unless they were identical except for the fact that count three added the names of Charles R. Kelly and Lawrence Kelly to the alleged conspirators as the receiving of stolen goods.

The jury were asked to find Kelly guilty on counts one, two, four, and five. The jury returned their verdict at four o'clock.

Villa Reported As Still Alive

Was Wounded, But Has Recovered Wants Secrecy Now

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 30.—Pachuca Villa is still alive, according to reports from the United States. An American now living in this city, who has kept a large part of his life in Mexico and knows the prisoner's hand personally. The information came from Mexican sources in Mexico, and its recipient is convinced that it came from sources that are absolutely reliable.

According to the information in the files of the American, he has large financial interests still at stake in Mexico and is anxious that his name be withheld from publication. At least for the present, Villa was really wounded early in Panama's campaign, as was reported, but was not shot in the knee and has now fully recovered.

For more than a month the American army officers in Mexico have been helped Pancho Villa the original cause of the entry of American troops into Mexico, was dead. This belief was supported by the fact that no more reports of reports they received from Mexico to the United States had had of blood poisoning after being shot in the knee. The American forces have been pushing directly forward or concealing him since April 12. According to the information received by the American here, Villa was dead in the death part of the war, but he had not been killed by the American forces.

It is further asserted that Carranza officers have known all the time that Villa was not dead. And it is said that he is now safe in the state of Durango and that he has been there practically ever since the Carranzas fought the Americans at Parral, and prevented them from crossing the Durango line.

EL PASO, June 30.—Passengers who arrived here on the train which left here today from San Antonio, Texas, under the name of General Bell, said that they had been in the train when the Carranzas' headquarters at Col. Carranza and the border has been closed.

LAND FOR K.G. GOLDIERS.

James Goldiers, Disciple of Jesus Christ, the Way of Life.

That indefatigable friend of British farmers, Mr. James Goldiers, in a letter to The London Times regarding the meeting at the Colonial Institute to consider the future of soldiers after the war, says:

"Mr. Rider Haggard as the representative of the Institute is about to invent the means by which our soldiers who return after the war can be settled in the Dominions overseas. Lord Curzon rightly stated that the open air, will not be sufficient to return to the factory, workshop, or office. It is the duty of the Government to provide an outlet for the employment of such men."

"These sentiments are excellent and true, but the conclusion which Lord Curzon arrived at is a very disappointing one. It contains a suggestion that the Government should send overseas and settled on Colonial lands. It is certain that there will be no sufficient employment for them in the industrial world in England. The only outlet for them is on the land."

"If an investigation similar to that about to be made by Sir Rider Haggard were made with regard to the situation in Canada, it would be found that there is a profitable employment for all the returned soldiers in cultivating the uncultivated and waste lands of the Dominion. It is a something repulsive in the idea that after these men have been so bravely in defence of the nation they are to be deported overseas, while the land of their own country is left uncultivated and waste."

"The immense outlet required for sending these men away would be largely, if not quite, sufficient to pay the cost of settling them on the land."

"The land settlements returned soldiers and their womenfolk would be engaged in rearing and building families, and what is most important, would be engaged in the economic and industrial strength of the country."

"The present Curzon idea, that after the war there will have to be a readjustment of the population, is a thing which our public life now contemplates. That readjustment, as I do not doubt, involve an industrial and social change, and that change can be fostered by the nature and extent of the land settlement."

"The land settlement will be over-estimated. That system, which is in no other country in Europe, gives the control of nearly a third of the land of a comparatively small number of persons. It permits the land to be used as it is best, to be used or to be used in a way that is best for the nation, in view of the needs of the nation as a whole."

"In view of the action, which is certain to take place, by bodies of men who hold extreme views with regard to the land—nationalists, Socialists, and others—it is better to have more than ever wide and necessary control of the land, and to have it in the hands of a few persons, who can be trusted to use it in the best way for the nation, in view of the needs of the nation as a whole."

"The land settlement is a thing which is already being done in the Dominion of Wales, and it is a thing which is already being done in the Dominion of Wales, and it is a thing which is already being done in the Dominion of Wales."

THIS IS THE SECOND DAY THE BRITISH EMPIRE HAS BEEN AT WAR WITH GERMANY.

MORE BUSINESS THAN USUAL.

The financing of a great war is a wasteful, economically impracticable, with a tendency to price inflation. But that it is permeated with unexpected, and we might say unsuspected, possibilities is evidenced in the mammoth business revealed by the Allies' most recent trade returns.

To those people who have pictured Great Britain groveling in bankruptcy at the conclusion of the present conflict, such trade tabulations will come as a surprise. The term quoted at the beginning of hostilities, "Business as usual," was not inappropriately chosen.

"More business than usual." According to figures compiled by the Board of Trade, Great Britain's imports in the month of May 1915 were $419,000,000, an increase of $70,000,000 over those for May 1914; in the same month exports of goods and re-exports combined were $397,500,000, an increase of $70,000,000 over those for May 1915. Imports were larger than in any previous month in the history of British trade, with the one exception of March, as would be expected, with the outlet upon war increasing steadily. But it is surprising to find that exports not only have been rising faster than imports, so that the adverse balance tends to diminish, but that exports actually have grown to new proportions.

For the year 1915 were 39.7 per cent. greater than in May 1914, and 11.8 per cent. larger than in May 1914, before the war. Re-exports have increased in the same proportion. They were 7.9 per cent. greater last May than in May 1915, and 6 per cent. greater than in May 1914. These figures do not include the large quantities of munitions, namely, British credit, of which the exportation has enormously risen.

That Britain is the economic mainstay of the Allied cause. She holds the purse, and with it the power to command the world's goods, especially food. By reason of her natural wealth in materials and her great industrial equipment she is able, besides, to produce for the needs of war a surplus of many factors above her own requirements. Her exports and re-exports, therefore, include both goods produced out of her own resources, supplied directly to her Allies and other goods bought under the terms of the "world for her account." France is a net importer of goods from British coal and iron, her own resources of such raw material having been conquered by the enemy. The other Allies, except industrially inferior to France, require from Great Britain enormous quantities of manufactured things.

The aggregate of Great Britain's trade with her Allies may be measured by the entry of "advances" in the balance sheet of her foreign affairs. This item represents not money loaned to her Allies, but almost entirely goods supplied to them on credit. At the end of March last it amounted to $1,800,000,000. In the fiscal year it would be increased by $1,500,000,000, according to Chancellor McClelland.

1917, if the war lasts till then, Great Britain's Allies will owe her more than $4,000,000,000 for goods obtained on credit. And that will be roughly one-quarter of Great Britain's aggregate expenditure for the war. She is merchant, producer and banker. By March 31, 1917, she will have invested in the war, out of the proceeds of taxation and loans, domestic and foreign, the incredible sum of $16,500,000,000 of which she will be roughly $1,500,000,000. The balance will be represented by "advances to her Allies," which they will be obliged to repay. At the close of the war, therefore, England will be what she was before, the largest creditor position in the world. She is in the position of a banker who takes the credit from one place and puts it out in another. She is liquidating her credit in United States by sales of American securities and lending of the proceeds to her Allies—France, Russia, Italy and her own colonies. The liquidation of her U. S. investments, plus her borrowing, is, approximately offset by the debts her Allies are contracting with her for the war supplies.

And, at the same time, regard to non-belligerents is reassuring. That is very interesting. In May, British exports to China and South America not only were not less, but were orders from South America for fabrics was for British industry a particularly gratifying development. Having increased her exports of nearly everything but ships, at the same time checking in every possible manner unnecessary imports, by prohibitive duties, etc., the adverse trade balance is being steadily diminished. In the first five months of 1915 it was $80,000,000, and in the first five months of 1916 it was $23,000,000. Roughly, at the present time Great Britain's excess imports over exports is less than in the first five months of 1915, so that she is keeping even or perhaps a little better. This is the extraordinary proof of her capacity for business.

An English paper announces that in the near future Queen Marie Amelie, at her quiet home at Richmond, one of London's most picturesque and charming suburbs, will celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of her marriage to the late King Carlos. She was born in Portugal, the daughter of the Comte de Paris, at Tuckwell-on-the-Thames. After the war of 1870 her father was permitted to return to France, but fifteen years later the entertainment given at his home in Paris on the occasion of her engagement to the then Crown Prince of Portugal, led to so remarkable a demonstration of "affection and loyalty on the part of the Royalists, and of general public sympathy, that the Republican Government was again became alarmed, and once more drove the Comte and his family into exile in England, and she did not return ever again seeing the land of his birth.

Hamilton Herald: If anyone ever doubted that the campaign of abuse against the State Committee for Sir Hugh Hughes and his partisan malice had for its main object the discrediting of the Government, that doubt might be dispelled by the speech delivered to a Liberty gathering at Markham on Saturday by E. F. B. Johnston, K. C., who was chief counsel for the Government, and who was nominated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier for the Opposition in the Meredith-Duff investigation. The main subject of Mr. Johnston's address was the disclosures made by the investigation. But he showed that he was incapable of viewing the matter from any other point of view than that of the party politicians, and was unscrupulous on that. Evidently he is interested in the huge charges made in the case of the Shell Committee only in so far as they afford ammunition for use against the Borden Government.

A stern tragedy was reported by a war correspondent the other day, based upon the testimony of a Yugoslav boy. A German boy, who was captured by the British, told him that he had seen a German soldier who was captured by the British, and who was being taken to a hospital. The boy said that the German soldier was very ill, and that he was being taken to a hospital. The boy said that the German soldier was very ill, and that he was being taken to a hospital.

ought to start an agitation to change the name of London, Ont. to something German—Ottawa Free Press.

"The war is finished!" "The war is finished!" German soldiers are reported to have cried when taken prisoner by the British. In this they were a little premature. They thought the war was over, but they had not yet seen the last of the war.

It is strange that Canadians of French extraction do not realize the fact that France has fully as much at stake as England. How can men with French blood in their veins view with apathy the splendid industrial and military efforts of France. It will singular if the gravity of war issues has not made the French-Canadian forget considerations of pride and prejudice—Independent Democrat and Chronicle.

Peterborough in
Orange Attire For Orangemen

Two Hundred and Sixty Lodges
Participate in Patriotic Celebration

(Peterborough Herald, July 13)
All the roads from at least six miles out to Peterborough today, and the local roads, which were crowded thousands of veterans with open vehicles. The anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne always attracts a large number of people, and today's celebration of the 25th anniversary is no exception of this. The day is in the morning, and the celebration brought capacity crowds; others came by vehicular means, and others walked. And among the concourse of Orangemen and their friends were noted many of the veterans. Mr. Chas. Crowe and Mr. Solomon Northey being among the old guard who have walked with the colours since they were old enough to do so.

There are many familiar faces mingling from the ranks. Over two hundred and sixty lodges from the 53rd Division, from the day was given by members who heard the call of King and Country have marched away with Canadian forces during the past two years. Some of these veterans are now playing the hero's part, and others are numbered among the sick and wounded.

Gathered in the city were Orangemen, True Blue, Orange Young Men and Franchise Boys from the Counties of Durham, Northumberland, and Yorkshire. In addition, many from Victoria, to make the 25th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, the most successful battle yet been held here.
The principal streets of the city were of bright colours. Plans and bunting are in the greatest profusion, while the bright uniforms of the Orangemen together with the increase of people who lined the streets, made an intensely interesting scene.

The parade occupied one hour in passing the city of Orange and then to the streets. The route, as previously announced, was carried out, and the parade was a grand success. The parade was delivered by E. P. McLean, Mayor of Peterborough, and George McCarthy, provincial organizer, Orange, and W. A. Howard.

The address of Capt. Durham had prepared for the Orangemen was distributed to members. As he generally known, military duty presented Capt. Durham from being present.

Trenton En Fete
Orange Attire For Orangemen

Lodges From Various Sections Congregate in Town—Take Part in Creditable Parade

Persons with perfect summer wearing, Orangemen from all points, including the local lodges, flocked to Trenton yesterday, and in the morning "walk" to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. The town was very well out for the reception of the hundreds of strangers who made their way by every mode of transportation to attend the celebration.
Plans and bunting were very much in evidence, and refreshment booths were opened, while the dining association was taxed to the utmost.
Over a thousand Orangemen took part. A feature of the walk was the number of the "Trentham" which were present with their lodges.

The local Orange Lodges, Nos. 574 and 575, were under the command of Mr. Milton Holmes and Mr. J. W.
Davison, respectively.

The parade was given by members who heard the call of King and Country, and the parade was a grand success. The parade was delivered by E. P. McLean, Mayor of Peterborough, and George McCarthy, provincial organizer, Orange, and W. A. Howard.

FARM LABORER'S WANTED

The Western Province of Canada has experienced an acute shortage of farm laborers for spring sowing and summer work this year.
Even when times were normal throughout Canada it was always difficult to bring from twenty-five to thirty thousand laborers from western provinces for the harvest season.
As voluntary enlistments have been very heavy, the situation is now critical. It is predicted by the Canadian government that the harvest, grave fact is being felt along the line of the Canadian Northern Railway on account of the difficulty experienced in obtaining men, which means steady work and wages
for all who visit in the districts served by the C.N.R.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. R. McCarty, Counselors, have been visiting in the city.

Miss Jessie McKenna is spending a few days at Lake Cancon, the guest of her sister Mrs. R. McCarty, Lakeview Cottage.

Mrs. W. Clarke, of Napa, and two young daughters, are the guests of Mrs. J. Gabbie, this city.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S LATEST COMEDY AT GRIFFIN'S TO-MORROW

The world's funniest and best-salaried screen comedian, Charlie Chaplin appears at Griffin's Opera House, to-morrow night and Saturday matinee and night is one of his latest. The first of his comedies entitled "The Floorwalker." The Griffin Management guarantees this comedy to their patrons, and state that it will prove the funniest comedy vehicle that has been exhibited in Beltraville in many months. A other selected plays will also be exhibited.

WATCH!—WAIT!

Coop and Lent's Big, Free Street Show for with all the joys the parade in it, when the Circus comes to town. And, what a parade is that! Surely it is prodigious, the has never before been seen. Impossible of exaggeration, the wonders waiting to review. The owners of these great called shows have ever held closely the successful policies of their famous forefathers and the traditional strictures.

of their brilliant professional street display has finished, and is now standing second to none for many days in a century. In these fortnight books of Coop and Lent's regular coming, this spectacular pageant is a recognized, warmly anticipated event, when it glows forth the foretell of the exhibition whose advent is announced, whose wonders will be revealed in Beltraville, Wednesday, July 12th.

A MARVELLOUS PHOTOGRAPH OF MURDER CAVELL'S MATHYDROM

How in the world these moving picture scenes can reproduce such scenes as were connected with the life and murder of Nurse Cavell was the question that occupied the minds of every person who attended Griffin's Opera House last evening. A more realistic picture sketch—a more truthful history of the lamentable scenes—could not be produced, and until last evening it did not seem possible that such could be effected. It was truly an evening of public interest—history repeating itself and those who witnessed the scenes were well pleased. Besides this the programme contained many other light screen plays, making up a delightful two hours, all of which will be reproduced this evening.

GRATY AND OTHER

CATCH VIEWS AT THE PALACE. The Alceste picture of Grati, at the Palace last night, depicting the power of the financial corporations, was thrown upon the screen to good effect. Much truly does much—good and evil—but some of the inner divinity that is in last night's intention of this thrilling story, was well worth seeing—it points one on what may be expected when a concern of this kind is not a victim. A number of shorter films were also given, the whole being repeated this evening.

BROCKVILLE SOLDIER SHOW

KINGSTON JULY 13-Special-A

Brookville soldier, Pte. Killenbury, a patient at the General Hospital, suffering from two bullets wounds to his leg. He says that he was shot by some unknown man near Brockville last Saturday night. It was very dark at the time, and he could not tell who it was, but he believes the bullets were intended for someone else.

Farm Home Conveniences

At the last annual meeting of the Commission of Conservation a report of a survey conducted on 400 farms during 1915 was presented. Some interesting data were secured, regarding conditions in many rural homes. Keeping the young people on the farm is one of Canada's national problems. Many causes have been suggested for the leaving for the city. The conveniences of the city have constituted one of the chief attractions. Materializing this, however, very few farmers have introduced these conveniences into their homes. Of the 400 farmers visited, 53 per cent. have young people in their families. With this large percentage, young people it is a regrettable fact that only two farmers out of every hundred have bath-rooms in their homes. Only 12 per cent. have water closets, only 23 per cent. have a complete service, and only 23 per cent. have electric light. In these 400 homes, only 182 per cent. have the water piped to the house, and but 115 per cent. have furnace in the house. These conditions are entirely within the reach of the farmer, $67 per cent. of whom are the owners of farms averaging 156.2 acres.

In contrast with the foregoing, the conveniences which have been supplied by the government and public utility companies and of which the farmer has availed himself stand out prominently. The Post Office Department has carried in 15 per cent. of these 400 farmers rural free mail delivery, allowing 77 per cent. of them to be supplied with daily newspapers.

while 83 per cent. have the conveniences of a telephone. Only 23 per cent. have complete sanitary service in their homes, while 5 per cent. have automobiles, but 15 per cent. have either automobile or horse and buggy for the worse people.

Much has been said and written of late to induce the farmer in the automobile, but little is heard of such household conveniences as the bath, kitchen sink, sanitary closet, etc. The automobile may carry the household away from her drudgery in a few hours a week, and to that extent prove a blessing, but the price of an automobile would provide a water supply and other conveniences that go with it, and render the home a home both to the housewife and the young people.

CALLED BY DEATH

J. ROYAL BISHFIELD

The death occurred last evening of an aged and most respected citizen of this city by the person of Mr. J. Royal Bishfield, who after an illness lasting a period of five years, succumbed to a serious attack of the typhoid, which occurred several months ago at his residence at 323 Foster avenue.

Deceased was born in The Old City of Toronto in June, 1827, coming to Belleville in 1861. He was a faithful old devoted member of St. John's, Methodist Church.

Those who survive him are his wife, three daughters, as follows: Mrs. Ida Martin, Mich.; Mrs. Fred Bishfield, of Chatham, Ont.; and Kellie, of home, and three sons, who are as follows: Clayton and Robert of Calgary, and Alton of Alberta.

Funeral notice will appear later. Interment to take place in the cemetery plot, Victoria cemetery.

OTTAWA, July 13.—The following information has been received by telegram at the office of the Fruit Canners Association this morning, relative to the apple situation in Ontario:

East of Toronto the crop is very disappointing and will not exceed that of 1915. There has been very serious development of scab, and a heavy drop of fruit in all sections. Unsprayed orchards are practically worthless on account of poor quality. There has also been some damage by hail in the Cobourg district. In western and northern parts of the province there is a medium crop, but the quality, particularly in Western Ontario, is good only in well sprayed orchards.

LOCK GATES INSTALLED

The lock gates at Campbellford and Hesley Falls will be installed in a short time, and when completed will be open from Lake Ontario as far west as Orillia.

Whether you "look well in glasses" or not may depend upon so seemingly unimportant a detail as the size or shape of the lenses. Lenses that look "well on a broad full face, would look ridiculous upon a long thin face. We carefully study the contour of each particular face and having our own plan. We are able to cut from the unfinished glass just exactly the right shape and size.

ERTHA GERNEAUX WOOD

"I noticed the remark," said Aunt Miriam, with a significant arch of her own brows."

"And it was so sweet the way Marian spoke up," said Alice. "Oh, nobody wants to bother with finger bowls here," she said, "we're always in too big a hurry to get to the beach."
"Oh, well, she's evidently a friend of Mrs. Myron's," Hazel said promptly. "I have a sort of notion, though I don't know anything about it, that she is partly paying her board by helping Mrs. Myron. I've seen her several times in the kitchen, and I know, for I saw with my own eyes yesterday, she made the salad dressing. Mrs. Myron's cook was sick, you know, was going past the kitchen, and there sat Marian in a big apron, beating the eggs. Oh, of course she's just exactly as nice if she does help pay her board that way," Hazel asserted. "Only, as I say, there is a sort of charm about

"Oh, things are pretty good," Della said critically, "and of course the sea air does give you an appetite, but I do wonder sometimes why these summer places can't give you a little more variety. It's rather monotonous when you know that Tuesday's luncheon means scalloped fish and porker and egg rolls, and Wednesday's dinner is roast mutton and potatoes and a little salad." Della laughed with a little laugh, and a demure look into her plate, for Mrs. Myron herself was approaching the fable. She was a tall, kindly, anxious-faced woman who never seemed in the morning to look at all rested from the day before.

"Mrs. Myron," Marian said, impulsively, "I think Mrs. Jones would

It all seemed to confirm Hazel's impressions expressed so freely to her aunt and sister an hour before! It was very obvious that Marian and her mother were "naused to things," ambiguous as the phrase is, and it was equally evident that Della had been accustomed to luxuries from her infancy.

It was the next morning down at the beach that Hazel pressed her sister's arm excitedly. They crossed the board walk. "Look over there, quickly," she said. "There's Marian and Alice. What did I tell you, Marian's mother! And she looks exactly as I expected!"

"Where?" Alice shaded her gray eyes with a slim hand, and peered in the direction indicated by her sister.

"Over there—the ropes! That short, dumpy little woman! Oh, Alice,

"She has been very good to me," Mrs. Myron said, her eyes brightening. "Helping me out many times when I hardly knew which way to turn—when I said dressing for me with new owners and she said, 'I'll do it.' She could get up any and help me with the mofinal. My cook was sick. Miss Marian has been an angel to me."

"Why, Mrs. Myron, it was all so fun, for I love to cook. And the way she mothered me when I was home sick those first days!" Marian turned her bright face from Mrs. Myron to her mother, with an expression that was singularly sweet.

"It's a good thing for a girl to know how to cook," Mrs. Williams remarked, "and my Della can do about everything in that line from bread-making to cooking pot roasts. I'll make a

Fur-Farming In Ontario

The Industry Under a Handicapped of Protective Legislation

Although considerable capital is required to start a fur farm in Ontario, the industry lacks the encouragement and assistance that is given to the fur farming industry in the United States and Eastern Canada, especially Prince Edward Island. A recent case has been cited in which a fur farmer was forced by the killing of a valuable animal to close his business. The case illustrates the difficulties that are encountered by small fur farmers who are essentially asset-less until their business is established. The Ontario Fur Farmers' Association, in its industry survey, a recent study of the fur farming industry in Ontario, has pointed out the substantial difference were awarded to the fur farming industry in the United States. This litigation should be avoided by law specifically limiting the liability of fur farmers for the loss of animals to the Game Act or to fur-breeders as provided in the United States and in the United Kingdom.

Prince Edward Island has provided the fur farming industry with a

As his fascinating Reminiscences which every one is reading just now, are published, it is not surprising that this familiar expression. It is so much surprising that one who should have been so prominent in so many matters should not know. The term was coined by Sir John C. The summer of 1918 was a strange period in the history of our country. It was a time when the nation was at the height of its glory, in Pennsylvania, just north of the Maryland line, and on a road leading up to the mountains.

One morning persons began to pass the house, and the hosts they were of the summer of 1918. Some of them were in the cars, some in the trucks, and some on horseback. They were all going to the mountains.

It seems to me now, an old woman, that I have lived through a great deal of things. I have seen the world change, and I have seen the people change. I have seen the world change, and I have seen the people change.

Mrs. Campbell struggled heroically with the assailant and was stabbed repeatedly, succumbing to her wounds a few hours later.

At the point of his sword, the burglar, the police say, forced the Japanese maid to disclose the cash box and then made his escape with $10.50, which it contained.

The Rev. Mr. Campbell recently volunteered for service with a Canadian contingent in the European war, and was about to return home.

A. P. Campbell and his wife were born in Toronto, the former being a graduate of Victoria College, and the latter of the Methodist Deaconess Training School in this city. Rev. Mr. Campbell, who was in his thirty-third year, was ordained in 1913, and preached one year in Toronto, where he was a member of the Toronto conference, before leaving for the Far East.

Mrs. Campbell, whose maiden name was Miss Jean Collinson, was a daughter of the late William Collinson, of Toronto.

Hetty Green fought her relative, W. W. Crapo, of New Bedford, for many years. Money she was to inherit he invested in Kansas railroad bonds that declined to 18 cents on the dollar and she sued him to make good.

Suspicion was a large part of her nature. When engaged in this litigation in New Bedford she would not

Names of Eligible and Non-Eligible to be Secured—Result of Conference

KINGSTON, July 17.—A convalescent was made of the Third Military District for the purpose of securing for the men who are eligible to go to war. This was decided at a conference of military men and civilians from different parts of this military district. The object of the conference was to devise ways and means to expedite the process of securing eligible men to the front.

One or two of the speakers advised consideration, but no one was taken on the matter, as the meeting seemed to feel that such a step would be impracticable at the present time.

Limit-Col. E. G. Williams, chief recruiting officer for Canada, occupied the chair, and presided on the platform were Limit-Col. D. H. Williams, chief recruiting officer for the U. S. Army, and Limit-Col. H. Williams, chief recruiting officer for the U. S. Navy.

Limit-Col. E. G. Williams was the first speaker. He referred to the fact that men in Canada desired to go overseas for service, namely, 100,000 of that number 30,000 had been recruited, and the remaining 70,000 could be raised without parading the industrial life of the country.

He said that the number of men who are now in the service is 100,000, and that the number of men who are now in the service is 100,000, and that the number of men who are now in the service is 100,000.

PLAN SOUNDINGS OF NIAGARA WHIRLPOOL

Heavy Weight Will be Suspended From Aircar which Will Travel by Cable Over the Seething Water—Spanish Capital Behind For

Of interest interest to scientific men
the series of soundings which the officials of the Niagara Spinning Cable Company, Ltd., propose to take in the famous Whirlpool Rapids of the Niagara River, from the passenger cable car suspended 100 feet above the water. The aeroplane car, which has been completed at a cost of $100,000 and a new draft will be the command of Niagara tourists. The first trip is planned for this week.

Wild stories are told of the depth of the Whirlpool. Many contend that it is no bottom. Others estimate the depth as anywhere between 100 and 1,000 feet. There is also a theory that the Whirlpool is connected with the waters of Georgian Bay through the Niagara River.

Of Great Importance.
Because of the fact that the rapid is too fast to be seen in the rapid it has been impossible to construct or verify the theories. Now,
from the vantage point of the car,
engineers are planning to make a series of soundings with a weight of 100 pounds, or heavier if necessary.

It is expected that the work will be successful in landing a satisfactory heavy weight to the water.
The work promises to be of great importance to scientists.

The aerial railway, 1,500 feet long, has been completed after more than a year of labor. It is the longest cableway of its kind in the world and the only one on the continent. As the cableway is 1,500 feet long, it is 1,500 feet long, has been completed after more than a year of labor. It is the longest
cableway of its kind in the world and the only one on the continent.

Chas. W. We pay high for our goods, and we pay more in character than we do in dollars.

THE Oshawa Reformer tells of the "startling statement" recently made by the manager of a big Toronto Mail Order House. He said: We have a bureau whose duty it is to read the country paper. There is not a paper of any consequence in our territory we do not get. The bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants do not advertise in the local papers, or where advertisers do not change their advertisements regularly, we immediately flood that Section with our catalogues and literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same effort put forth in territory WHERE THE LOCAL MERCHANTS USE THE LOCAL PAPERS."
